Apr 30, 2018 Version 1.4.4 Bug fixes and performance improvements. Capture your favorite moments to relive, back and forth with this fun, easy-to-use video app. Boomerang shoots short films that play in a loop, revealing what you've recorded and then reversing the action for quirky moving snapshots that show off your love. With one tap controls and many ways to share with friends, it's a cool way to remix your memories. App boomerang is amazing app! I personally believe that more people should get this app! It's very fun and enjoyable. But there's one thing you need to improve. The fact that I have an iPhone means that I don't have a boomerang in my camera roll. So one thing that disappoints me is that you don't save them to roll your camera. It disappoints me because you capture all those fun moments in a boomerang, but if you want to delete the app, you can't because you have to be able to have the boomerangs you want in your camera roll. Anyone who ever reads this I definitely advise you to use this app! It's great! And it works! I thought this app was really fun because I saw my friend using it. Then I got it and I hated it. It should be like snap chat where you write things on if you don't use it for Instagram and the boomerang should be longer. The app should make it to wares if you do a boomerang while jumping it shouldn't show your feet hit the ground. I saw another person write that you should be able to use previous videos you've recorded and I agree with that. This app needs a lot more improvements than this. It would literally take me a day to list all the improvements. Will this app please try to fix the things I mentioned and what other people mentioned? Then if yall did that I would rate it five stars not 3 stars. I would only recommend boomerang if the app does the improvements. It became such a hit that it was quickly bought by Facebook and it is now one of the most important social networks in the world, used on a regular basis by both individuals and brands and companies who use this platform to promote their products. To expand the features, but without saturating the app with new menus, they published several spin-off applications such as Layout to do photo remixes or this Boomerang from Instagram to make short videos and compete with other services, such as the long-killed Vine or especially Snapchat. What is Boomerang of Instagram and how to use it Well, as we mentioned earlier, it is an application to make short videos, but with an important peculiarity: the latter are viewed in backward and forward loops. For such a purpose, we need to find something or someone on the move or take a video selfie: Step 1: choose your phone's front or rear camera, depending on the type of boomerang you want to make. Step 2: Press the only button on the interface. Step 3: The application will be a burst of 10 photos that we will be turned into a video. The latter will be played in a loop forward and backward. Step 4: Save the creation to your gallery or share it online via, for example, Instagram or Facebook. Have fun making short loop videos and sharing them with your friends. The best thing about this service is that we don't have to be an Instagram user to use the application: it can be used without signing in or creating accounts. It is also distinguished by its extreme simplicity. As we mentioned above, there is only one button to record... and another three to share. What else do you want? It's one of the most downloaded photography apps for Android, which is why, if you download and install the MOT, you can find many more tricks and tips to get the most out of the extensive features.
